

When you make mistakes

Mistakes happen to everyone. You may have ripped a page from a book, lost your mommy's keys, or broken one of your friend's toys. When you make mistakes, you probably feel bad about what you did, and you apologize. Then you do what you can to make it right again.

Doesn't it feel good when you apologize for a mistake, and you are forgiven? If someone makes a mistake that makes you feel angry or sad, it's important to show patience and forgiveness and say, "That's okay, we all make mistakes. I forgive you."

*Mistakes happen to you and me,
So I'll learn to forgive easily.*
