

Building Friendships

Friendships don't usually happen in an instant.
The best of friendships are often built over time.

In the beginning you may not know someone so well, or you may not know all the kinds of activities you'd enjoy doing together. These things take time to find out.

A friendship must be built on a solid foundation
of love and concern for the other.

You build
the walls of your friendship with the stones of kindness, sealed in place with the mortar of thoughtfulness.

If you both take care to build up and not tear down, soon you will have a castle of friendship that is fun to live in and can bring you both much happiness and fun.
