

Temporarily Blinded

(Acts 13:2–48)

Paul (also known as Saul) was joined by Barnabas and they journeyed to Cyprus, where they preached the word of God in the synagogues.

When they passed through Paphos, they were invited by the Roman deputy, Sergius Paulus, to come tell him of God's Word. A sorcerer named Elymas opposed them, because he was trying to keep the deputy from having faith in Jesus. So Paul, filled with the Holy Spirit, rebuked Elymas and the Lord blinded Elymas for a short time so that he had to be led around by others.

When the deputy saw what happened, he was amazed and believed all the disciples taught about the Lord.

Paul and Barnabas journeyed next to Perga and then Antioch, where they taught about Jesus in the synagogue. They also taught the Gentiles who asked to hear the Word of God. They were off to a good start on their missionary journeys!

Temporarily Blinded

(Acts 13:2–48)

Paul (also known as Saul) was joined by Barnabas and they journeyed to Cyprus, where they preached the word of God in the synagogues.

When they passed through Paphos, they were invited by the Roman deputy, Sergius Paulus, to come tell him of God's Word. A sorcerer named Elymas opposed them, because he was trying to keep the deputy from having faith in Jesus. So Paul, filled with the Holy Spirit, rebuked Elymas and the Lord blinded Elymas for a short time so that he had to be led around by others.

When the deputy saw what happened, he was amazed and believed all the disciples taught about the Lord.

Paul and Barnabas journeyed next to Perga and then Antioch, where they taught about Jesus in the synagogue. They also taught the Gentiles who asked to hear the Word of God. They were off to a good start on their missionary journeys!